Religion 224: Lutheran Heritage

Welcome! This course is an introduction to the origins, core convictions, practices, and ethical commitments of the Christian reform movement which takes its name from the 16th century university professor, priest, and reformer, Martin Luther. In this course, you will explore the Lutheran understanding of the “founder” of Christianity (i.e., Jesus of Nazareth), the community which claims his name (i.e., the Christian community or church), the central text (the Bible), central rituals, and the ethical commitments which flow from all those elements just mentioned.
